

NT Peer Workforce Project

Are you living with a Psychosocial Disability ?

Psychosocial disability is a term used to describe a disability that may arise from a mental health issue. It may impact on the way you think, feel or interact with other people, forming a barrier to fully participate in life.

The NT Workforce Project at TEMHCO, is raising the capacity of people with lived experience in Mental Health to complete vocational education and training (VET) in the community services sector.

This is achieved through a supportive study and work placement arrangement in partnership with providers such as Charles Darwin University (CDU) and Star College.

Are you interested in studying ?

Individual Support Certificate III

Community Services Certificate III

Mental Health Certificate IV

Peer Work Mental Health Certificate IV

The NT Workforce Project is increasing the awareness of mental health in the workplace and building the capacity of employers to support existing staff who may develop a mental health issue. It also encourages employers to hire and retain people who experience psychosocial disability.

TEMHCO

Top End Mental Health
Consumers Organisation

Phone: 0448 549 241 or 0429 082 781

Email: project@temhco.com.au

Funded by Australian Government—Dept of Social Services (Oct 22)